The City Is Short of Funds.

Why wouldn't it be, when every department has been turned over to political spoilsmen, and there has been a grand revel of favored contractors and tax-eaters since the year began? The appropriations were made and the money assigned to each department, yet regardless of all, the money was spent as if the appropriation was doubled. They knew it could not last at that rate, but used no economy, relying on the leniency of the people and hoping the state legislature would help them create another fund to dip into and help themselves. Why cannot city affairs be conducted the same as any large business concern, and when funds are low economy practiced? The fact is, the present administration is paying off its political debts in unnecessary positions, salaries and spoils at the expense of the city. Should Governor Lowden call a session, the money would be raised in some way, and it would be squandered. Taxes are now as high as the people can pay. Another 10 per cent was added by the state to meet war conditions, and to meet Thompson conditions it will take several 10 per cents. It is time to call a halt on extravagance and give the political sharks a number of graftless days each week.

Bankers Will Protect Themselves.

It is a sad reflection on the policing of a city when the financial institutions are compelled to organize a vigilance committee to protect their institutions. They are not to blame, as daring robberies occur weekly and the police seem unable to cope with the situation. Why not take the 700 and more officers who are on special detail in various parts of the city and put them on beat? Why not take a lot of those ornamental (?) plain clothes men from the city hall and put them at work? In other words, why not get "down to brass tacks" and have the police force do what it is supposed to do, patrol and protect the city, and not act as escorts and ornamental guides for every conceivable function? The example of the bankers may be followed by the citizens, and everyone carry a sawed-off shotgun in his change pocket for self-protection. The trouble is there is too little protection and too much politics in the force, and too many salaries paid and too little work done. The leniency of the courts also suggests that as a fit companion for the vigilance committees, we have a Judge Lynch court, and after the sufferers and victims string up a gang or two of robbers, maybe the evil will be abolished.

We're Proud of Englewood in the War.

We are mighty proud of the showing Englewood is making in the war. Not one section alone, but all, east and west, north and south, we have turned out as sturdy a lot of soldiers and sailors as Uncle Sam may ask for. It was a subject of remark at the receiving stations, what a clean-cut lot our boys were. No faces marred by dissipation or abuse, just good, husky, live fellows, full of fun and life, who cheerfully took up their duty, and we guarantee will give good account of themselves abroad. We are also proud of the noble work our ladies are doing for the Red Cross and other useful fields; also our nurse contingent, waiting or serving in the units at home or abroad. When it came to the Liberty loan bonds, Englewood also was heard from, and few are the homes that have not one or more large or small autographs of Uncle Sam snugly tucked away. To the Y. M. C. A. Englewood responded liberally, and is now making a record in the Knights of Columbus rally for funds for their field work. Measured by and yon, rich and poor, all nationalities, all religions, here in Englewood, we have proven ourselves Americans, and stand back of our president with heart and soul. Rah for Englewood!

Even the excessive cold weather of this week could not prevent the decorating artists on the new Cunningham building from putting in some of the best of the finishing touches. The beautiful artistic tinting of the chapel is one of the main features as it must correpond with the tone and arrangements of the cathedral glass windows, doors and finish. The completion of this fine building will be an event in Englewood building circles and the public will be invited to a view of its entirety. The store rooms are completed as are the offices and rooms on the second floor and all that remains are the last of the finishing touches in the chapel, which has required more time and a great deal more expense than any one would imagine, but it will be well worth while when the doors are thrown open for public inspection.

NAZARENE CHURCH,
Church of the Common People, 64th St. and Eggleston Ave.
Rev. M. E. Borders, Pastor.
Rev. W. G. Schurman, Assistant Pastor.
Rev. F. M. Messenger, Assistant Pastor.

Services at the Nazarene church next Sunday, December 16, morning at 10:30 and evening at 7:30. Another great revival. Our aim is to have a revival all the year through. These are the greatest days in our history. How swiftly the years are rolling on! Soon the shades of night will gather darkly over earth's vast harvest field. Soon our opportunities for sacrifice and service will be terminated forever. The privilege and blessing of our work an angel would covet and the solemn responsibility is enough to make an angel tremble. Surely the uncertainty of life, the certainty of death, the shortness of time, the length of eternity and the despairing cry of millions of needy souls should move every Christian to a greater effort and a more deathless devotion. Is it any wonder the sainted John Knox would often cry out, "Lord give me souls or take my soul?" "If we could be still enough in the mad strife for wealth and position, we would hear the dying groan of the lost millions of humanity and feel the ebbing pulse of the Nazarene as he poured his life's blood into the veins of an expiring world; and we would start from our spell of self-gratification as if touched by an electric battery." Great service of song. Doors open at 7. Come early.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF ENGLEWOOD.
64th St. and Yale Ave.
Pastor, Rev. Willard H. Robinson, D. D. 6530 Lafayette Ave.

At Englewood Presbyterian church in the morning at 10:30 the pastor will speak on the "Capture of Jerusalem." The "foul Syrian town" as Matthew Arnold called it, is once more in Christian hands. The glory of Jerusalem is Jesus. Situated on no river, without a harbor, in the midst of barren lands, obliged to import almost everything from Moab, wheat and Egyptian tools and utensils with a large nonproductive population, specially liable to famine and the pestilence that walks in famine's trail—Jerusalem, despite all these difficulties, is the best-known city of the world. In the time of Jesus the great white temple and the smoky altars gave it a somewhat religious aspect, but its main appearance from, say the Mount of Olives, was military. It makes small difference, after all, who holds the town. Rome amounts to much without Caesar. Athens is a thought and art center without Plato. But Jerusalem is nothing without Jesus. The British have the town. That is something. But if the world had Jesus what a changed world it would be.

TRIANGLE THEATRE

The management of the Triangle theatre, 7219 Wentworth Ave., hereby extends a courteous invitation to each and every patron of the Nu-Sho to hereafter attend the Triangle, where (by closing the Nu-Sho) we can afford to give much better pictures than have ever been shown in the neighborhood. Our operating room is remodeled and we now have one of the best operators Chicago affords. Everything will be done that is possible for the comfort and entertainment of our patrons. Our policy (5 and 10c) will remain as it has been; 10 and 15c only when big, expensive features are shown. A cordial welcome awaits you.—F. C. Parr, owner; L. L. Johnson, Manager.

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 14 and 15—Matinee Saturday. Matinee, 2 to 11, continuous. Adolph Zukor presents Marguerite Clark in "The Amazons," taken from the tremendous Broadway success, in which Billie Burke startled New York. Miss Clark plays the part of the one girl who really delights in the fact that she is a boy and enacts the character throughout with unprecedented delight. Can you imagine Marguerite Clark doing a giant swing on a trapeze? Can you imagine her as a pugilist in a prize fight ring? Can you picture her jumping from a second story window and swinging on a limb of a tree? It will be a revelation to picture fans to see her in this picture. Friday—Also Victor

In "The Amazons," Friday and Saturday, December 14 and 15.

Moore in "Wits and Fits" and little Bobby Connelly in a comedy. Saturday—Also a Paramount Bray Pictograph and the eighth great episode of the daring drama with Helen Holmes.

Sunday, Dec. 16—Fascinating and beautiful Blanche Sweet in "The Sowers." This is one of the best pictures in which this great favorite has appeared. The story is good and the photoplay is intensely thrilling. Also a Burton Holmes Travelogue and a big special two reel Keystone comedy, "Dangers of a Bride" featuring Fritz and Juanita Hansen.

Big Features Coming—Douglas Fairbanks in "Down to Earth." Norma Talmadge in "The Moth," Gladys Hulette in "Streets of Illusion." Kathlyn Williams in "Big Timber."

LINDEN PHOTODROME

Friday, Dec. 14—Carlyle Blackwell, Muriel Ostriche and Evelyn Greely, in "The Good For Nothing." Can a man make a success of himself even though he fails to make money? You'll agree that he can when you see the way in which Jack, "The Good For-Nothing," makes good in this picture. Also the Burton Holmes Travel Pictures and a Victor Moore comedy.

Saturday, Dec. 15—Gladys Brockwell in "A Branded Soul," a photoplay that will reach the heart of every woman. For men, too, children may learn. What is a woman's duty? Should she give herself to a man if by so doing she can save the name of another, or should she keep to herself and bring about his ruin? This picture will tell you on Saturday. All the news in the Animated Weekly and a good comedy.

Sunday, Dec. 16—Douglas Fairbanks in "The Habit of Happiness." This is the picture that made our Doug famous. It just fits his smooth ways. We know you'll like it, so be sure to come Sunday. Also a funny two reel Keystone comedy.

Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 17-18—"Alimony"—the tie that burns. This powerful story of an unwanted wife is a photoplay by Hayden Talbot, an old court reporter who knows. The story shows how crooked divorce lawyers operate, how they trump up evidence which breaks hearts, disrupts homes and orphans children. Most of the victims of these legal vultures are wealthy, and usually settle the alimony claims to avoid the notoriety of a trial. The methods of Elijah Stone in this photoplay are typical and, until seen, almost unbelievable. With it we have the very latest Mack Sennett comedy, "An International Sneak."

Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 19-20—Norma Talmadge in "The Secret of the Storm Country, or the Dangers of a Secret Marriage." Norma Talmadge is a very wonderful person and her work in her new picture is one of the finest things that has been done on the screen.

MARLOWE HIPPODROME

Every seat is not only well placed to see the stage, but also as to heat and comfort, and the excellent programs make an ideal evening when you want solid comfort with your amusement and entertainment. At this special season, the "off" one for professionals, the Marlowe is booking all of the good ones who come into Chicago preparatory to going out on the big time, and the cleverest of vaudevillians are out after a "turkey" engagement through the holidays, and the Marlowe management supplies the turkey. A feature for the holiday season is a run of Christmas plays most appropriate to the occasion, and every worker behind the scenes is imbued with the idea that this is a joyous time, in which everyone should be amusing and amused. The Marlowe always gives a good show. E. A. R. THEATRE

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 14 and 15—7 to 11 p. m. Matinee Saturday. Bab's Burglar,' five parts. Second of the 'Sub Deb' stories made famous by Mary Roberts Rinehart and starring the winsome Marguerite Clark who has no equal in her portrayal of these troublesome, mischievous roles. Miss Clark is adorably lovely, and most any burglar be he bad or good, wouldn't mind being hunted by such a dainty piece of femininity. You'll love her all over again. Try it. Also other attractions.

Sunday, Dec. 16—2 to 11 p. m. "Anything Once" five parts. Franklyn Farnum star of many Bluebird successes will again present his smiling and agile shadow self on the screen in a sensational comedy-drama the story of a man who refused to be bluffed. Just how the fun can develop from the determination of a fearless young man who finds himself backing a combination of wild westerners will never be understood until you see this lively photoplay. There's a girl of course.

A Clever Dummy two part Keystone comedy and Burton Holmes Travelogue. Added attraction, matinee only. Pearl White in "The Fatal Ring," No. 12.

Monday, Dec. 17—7 to 11 p. m. "On the Level" five parts. The popular Lionne Ward assisted by Jack Dean, Lottie Pickford, James Cruze and Harrison Ford in a tense drama of the West. As the only child of a sheep ranchman who through force of circumstances becomes a pitiful little dance hall girl Miss Ward is most appealing. A mother's efforts to prevent her wayward son from marrying the girl who has been the means of his salvation are foiled, and the erstwhile drug fiend finds happiness with the woman of his choice. 'More Haste and Less Speed" Christie comedy. Pathe Latest Events. Also "The Joy of Freedom," Drew comedy.

Tuesday, Dec. 18—7 to 11 p. m. William Fox presents the incomparable Theda Bara in "Her Greatest Love." A special super de luxe photodrama in five parts. A story of a girl's love sacrificed for a mother's ambition. Founded on Ouida's 'Moths.' "Automatics," a side splitting comedy in two parts.

Wednesday Dec. 19—7 to 11 p. m. "The Trouble Buster," five parts. Vivian Martin has what is called the greatest gift of the theatre, and that is—charm. And she is given ample opportunity to exhibit this trait in her latest production under the Paramount banner. Left alone in the world, this little girl fights her way to the top, winning both success and love, and triumphs in the end with the man she adores. Miss Martin makes a charming boy and when "Blackie" takes her in his arms at the end of the story and she asks him what he came for, his answer "for the love of Mike" may sound like a puzzle, but we think you'll get it just the same. Pathe Latest News. 'A Pullman Bride,' two part Sennett comedy.

Thursday Dec. 20—7 to 11 p. m. "The Mysterious Miss Terry." The delightful piquant Billie Burke, of many stage successes, as the heroine in an unusual romance of love and mystery by one of our most famous writers and humorists, Gelett Burgess. Also a good two reel comedy.

Friday, Dec. 21—J. Stuart Blackton's massive production, "The Judgment House."

EMPRESS THEATRE

"How do they do it at the price?" is the constant query of Empress theatre patrons. Every week and twice every week the entire bill is changed, and it is difficult to chose between them as to which is the best bill. Manager Harry Mitchell is up in his business and as soon as a real headliner is discovered Harry goes gunning for it, and it is very seldom indeed that he does not get it. See the bill this week, and you will know what we mean when we say what a good show it is.

Mr. Mitchell's long acquaintance with the big men on all circuits enables him to catch them going and coming, East or West, and many open dates are booked for the Empress that the dollar houses would be glad to book. Hereafter the old policy of matinees daily will rule, and the old price of ten cents, a thin dime, for admission is what none of the other managers can fathom and ask. "How does he manage it?" Well, that is what the proprietors pay for, his management, and he does put it over every week.

The Empress has been renovated and prettily decorated, every corner and cranny swept and cleaned, garnished with new paint and gilding so that it shines as bright as a soldier's medal. Don't make a mistake when you want an hour or two of real amusement. Hit the trail for the Empress and keep abreast of the times in all the best stage stuff. None of the old time, small-town acts get on the stage here. The act must be good and new and unquestionable in every way. It is never a cheap show, only cheap prices.

The great beauty of the Empress is the wonderful ventilating system by which it may be easily cooled and heated always with pure fresh air, the same system, in fact, as is used in the best hospitals. Remember the Empress when you are booking your best girl for an engagement. It is sure to please her as well as yourself.

Englewood High School News.

The Seniors will hold their dance on Friday night, Dec. 14, at the Englewood Men's club. It will be one of the events of the season. It will be a subscription dance and informal. All are invited.

Mr. Will Nicely, recently elected treasurer of the 3B class, will not return to school. Miss Josephine Swee, Mr. Sidney Koller, and Mr. James Driscoll, Clarence Curtis, Chas. Palmer, the president, apointed a committee of three to talk to a similar committee of the 3A's, about the Junior room, which will be held later.

At a recent meeting of the football team, "Chuck" Palmer, halfback, was unanimously chosen as the captain for 1918. Englewood rooters have something to look forward to next year, as a great many players on the team will be back again next fall. They will thus have had more experience and ought to make a strong bid for the championship.

Thursday, December 6, saw the annual meeting of the 3B pupils. It was held to elect the officers for the 3B class, and the following members were chosen: President, Charles Palmer; vice president, Alice Smith; secretary, Ray Spoerri; treasurer, William Nicely. With the selection of these four the class is well represented and many good times are in store.

The cast of 'Secret Service' held its 'spread' on Monday, Dec. 10, at the command and invitation of the commander of the Footlight corps, Miss Courtney. A very fine and delicious supper was given and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves. There were fifty at the supper. Miss Courtenay had written a verse, a poem, something about the person meant for. These acted as place cards. The cast gave her a beautiful pair of book ends. The supper was at 5:15. At 6:30 the cast held its dress rehearsal. The first performance will be on Tuesday, Dec. 11, the next on Wednesday, Dec. 12, and the next on Thursday, Dec. 13.

The cadets were given a real treat on Saturday, Dec. 8, when they were entertained by the Indiana society. The boys met at school and then took the elevated down to the Ziegfeld theater, where they saw Margarite Clark in 'Bab's Matinee Idol.' Then they went to the Congress hotel and rehearsed their part. Their part consisted in filing up the aisle and standing at attention while the Star Spangled Banner was played by a Congress orchestra and sung by Mme. Jennie Duframe. A chorus of over fifty men and women from the opera assisted. The boys held different implements connected with the war, such as machine guns, signal flags, ambulance materials, gas masks, bombs, etc. It was a very beautiful and thrilling sight! After a number of rehearsals they went across the street to the Auditorium hotel and had a most delicious dinner. A really and truly banquet dinner, too. Then they went back and gave their 'stunt.' After that they went home. All expenses to and from and in between were paid by this society. The cadets performed their part exceedingly well.

Direct from the loop. Matinee all seats 10c, evening 15c. America's sweetheart, Mary Pickford, in another of her big successes, "The Little Princess," her latest production picturized from Francis Hodgson Burnett's well-liked novel and play. An absorbing and delightful photoplay in which our little Mary reaches the zenith of her career. In this truly remarkable production she plays the part of a girl who at first enjoys great riches and then suffers poverty. You will enjoy this play immensely, so don't miss it. Also other attractions.

Double feature, Sunday, December 16, continuous 1:30 to 11 p. m. Direct from the loop. Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in their latest play, "Jack and Jill." A sparkling film entirely different and so full of good, wholesome fun that it cannot help but refresh the most blase movie fans. You can't afford to miss this breezy tale of Eastern streets and Western plains. Also the funniest comedy ever shown. Big surprise for young and old, "Wedding Bells and Roaring Lions." Positively the funniest comedy ever shown on screen or stage. Also latest Hearst-Pathe Weekly. All the latest events, and also Sunday—matinee only—"The Fighting Trail."

Special, one day only, direct from the loop. Monday, December 17, matinee and night. The prominent American actor, William Farnum, in a special super de luxe production, "When a Man Sees Red." A truly wonderful production taken from the famous novel and play, "The Painted Lady," by Larry Evans. "When a Man Sees Red" is the greatest play Mr. Farnum has appeared in. There never was any more verile, more exciting and perfectly produced photoplay in the history of filmdom. Critics say that it is the strongest and most striking drama of the year. You must see it. Also latest Hearst-Pathe News. All the latest events.

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

An annual event of importance will take place next week at the Englewood theatre, commencing with a matinee on Sunday, when "The Tempters" will move into the Englewood theatre. This is one of the largest and best burlesque organizations on the American circuit, composed of 38 people and including an extra large chorus of 24 girls. Burlesque celebrities—people that have made burlesque famous—are included in this aggregation, headed by the peer of all Yiddish comedians, Max Fields. Opposite him will be found Sidney Rogers. These two funmakers will be ably supported by the two best straight men in burlesque, Harry Keeler and Eddie Healey. The woman principals include such people as Ruth Everett, the original mechanical doll, who is the nearest delineator of a human automaton yet to be seen on the American stage; Anna Fink, the whirlwind soubrette, and Evelyn Claffy, the California songbird. This is Miss Claffy's first burlesque venture, she having confined all her previous efforts to vaudeville and musical comedy on the Pacific coast. She has endeared herself to burlesque patrons from the start with her really wonderful voice and pleasing personality.

Scenery, properties and special effects enough for two elaborate acts and six separate scenes are carried by "The Tempters." Everything is brand new this season, and Messrs. Baker & Kahn, the producers, have spared neither time nor expense to make it a perfect burlesque show. While it is burlesque of a higher grade, it is still burlesque—no thought of musical comedy or light opera entering the producers' minds when "The Tempters" was produced. It is all for fun—fast and furious for two hours, with not a dull minute and 60 laughs an hour guaranteed.

The famous Bakerized chorus will be in evidence a great part of the time during the entertainment. Twenty-four girls, all young and pretty, none of them over twenty, and all of them single.

The added attraction with "The Tempters" will be Zallah. She stands alone and supreme in her line of entertainment. Zallah will positively appear at each and every performance.

There will be special bargain matinees for the ladies each day.

EMPRESS THEATRE

The daily matinees at the Empress theatre attract the largest crowds that attend any playhouse in the South side. Manager Harry Mitchell rather prides himself on the excellent programs he presents and that he is pleasing the people is attested by their patronage.

The very top liners in vaudeville are surely to be seen as early as any house in the city, at the Empress, and the changes in program are such as to keep something new and novel always before the audiences. All that is approved by the best booking agencies as the proper caper are booked for the Empress and at the earliest dates, so that to keep thoroughly abreast of the times, it is necessary to get the Empress habit and go to the Empress at least several times a week.

The cold weather coming on when it is more pleasant indoors than out, brings out to the best houses the faces of those who have been absent during the summer, and to those who have not been patrons of the Empress, we wish to invite them to give the Empress a trial visit any afternoon or evening, being assured that a visit means a regular patron. Another feature of the management is to solicit suggestions from patrons that may in any way improve the programs or service of the house. The Empress is the people's playhouse. Be one of the people.

Pity Father.

Carl, aged three, and his baby sister of eighteen months slept in the same room as their parents. Carl woke up early and tormented his still sleepy father with questions.

"Father, can a cow speak?"

"No, my child."

"Father, can a dog speak?"

The father, thinking Carl was going through the entire list of animals that he knew, said severely:

"No animal can speak. And you must keep quiet now, for father wants to sleep."

For a long time the child remained quiet; then being no longer able to restrain his curiosity, he asked timidly:

"Father, what kind of an animal is baby?"

Benefits From Sleep.

Sleep is a great preserver of youth. Eight hours at night and a short nap during the day will do much to keep the face free from wrinkles. Always sleep with the bedroom window open a few inches at the top, both in summer and in winter, says a physician. A daily morning bath, tepid in winter and cold in summer, with a brisk rub to follow, will keep the skin fresh and clear. Two hours must be passed in the open air, walking, riding or playing games. All tight clothing, and especially tight lacing, must be avoided, as compression disturbs the circulation and is often the cause of enlarged veins and red noses. A celebrated woman, who was famous even in her old age for her beautiful, clear complexion and freedom from wrinkles, was once persuaded to tell the secret of her youthful looks. The answer was simple. Abstinence had been the rule of her life. No tea, coffee or stimulant of any kind. To keep well drink lemonade or water, eat apples, grapes and figs regularly. Take the raw juice of a lemon every day. Never fail to walk regularly. Bathe frequently.

A Waste of Pity.

Mrs. Greener (at her first game of football)—Oh, isn't it awful? Horrible! Why, they will kill that poor fellow underneath.

Her Daughter (an enthusiast)—Don't be silly, mother. He doesn't mind it. He's unconscious by this time.

Many a man who thinks he is thinking is merely rehearsing the thoughts of another.

Why That Lame Back?

Morning lameness, sharp twinges when bending, or an all-day backache; each is cause enough to suspect kidney trouble. Get after the cause. Help the kidneys. We Americans go it too hard. We overdo, overeat and neglect our sleep and exercise and so we are fast becoming a nation of kidney sufferers. 72% more deaths than in 1890 is the 1910 census story. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands recommend them.

An Iowa Case

O. W. Emery, Cresco, Iowa, says: "My back got so painful I couldn't sleep and I had to be propped up with pillows. The pain was terrible and it seemed as though my kidneys were being torn loose. The kidney secretions were painful in passage and I lost weight until I was a mere shadow of my former self. Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to good health and I haven't suffered since."

WHILE AT WAR

Women Suffer at Home.

QUINCY, ILL.—"Several years ago a relative of mine suffered with woman's weakness and impoverished blood. She took Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his Golden Medical Discovery for these ailments with the very best of results. She was most enthusiastic concerning these remedies and was always recommending them. At that time I was quite a young girl and made my home with her. She gave me the 'Favorite Prescription' as a tonic and nerve-builder. It helped me very much and my system only required the one bottle to be made entirely well and strong."—MRS. B. GALLAHER, 302½ S. 4th Street.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—"Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription was a favorite medicine of my mother's. When I was a girl she gave it to me. It was the means of restoring me to health. I do recommend this medicine to young girls, especially those who are just coming into womanhood."—MRS. FRANKIE WOOLSEY, 4449 Hunt Avenue.

"Favorite Prescription," the ever-famous friend to ailing women, and "Golden Medical Discovery," the greatest general tonic are both put up in liquid and tablets, and are to be found in nearly all drug stores. They have enjoyed an immense sale for nearly 50 years, which proves their merits as well as the statements made by users. If not obtainable at your dealer's send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and he will mail trial package of either tablets.

The best word picture of the ancient city of Jerusalem is Pierre Loti's. He went thither on a pilgrimage from Egypt, across the edesert along the same line which has been followed by the English forces. "The sun rises, pale, ominously yellow, a sun of storm, amid threatening clouds," he writes. "Beyond, a large city is gradually revealed, on stony and mournful mountains; through the dust and lashing rain it is not easy to distinguish it. . . . Jerusalem, recognizable from all other towns, with its formidable walls and its little cupola covered roofs of stone; Jerusalem, gloomy and high, inclosed within its battlements, under a dark sky. . . ."

HOUSETOPS ARE UTILIZED

Roofs of Small Homes in Palestine Are Devoted to Many Purposes, Including Quarters for Stock.

Housetops play a very important part in village life in Palestine, writes Rev. C. T. Wilson in "Pleasant Life in the Holy Land." In the hilly districts the one-storied rooms are often built back to the side of the knoll, or hill on which the village stands; or where it is in a valley, a perpendicular rock surface will occasionally be utilized as one of the walls and the roof will thus be on a level with the street above. Where such a village is dependent on the rain for its water supply, the roof will be made flush with the roadway, in order to get a greater area from which to collect the water for the cistern below. When this is done, it is often impossible to tell from above where the street ends and the roof begins.

The roofs, although really domed, are not unfrequently afterward leveled up so as to make them quite flat, or sloping slightly to one corner to throw off the rain more easily. They are put to an infinite variety of uses; thus, in a village built on the side of a particularly steep valley, where it was almost impossible to find a flat space I have seen a housetop used as a threshing floor. Where the house it not built against the hillside, faggots of brushwood, used by the women for firewood, are often piled up on the roof for safety. During the dry season I have seen goats and sheep folded there at night, and in the hot, sultry nights of summer the whole family will frequently sleep on the housetop. In the case of a number of rooms built on to each other for a family of sons, the roofs will join; though sometimes at different levels. In some cases these roofs are reached from the streets by an outside staircase.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 16

NEHEMIAH ENFORCES THE LAW OF THE SABBATH.

LESSON TEXT—Nehemiah 13:15-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy.—Exod. 20:8.

Nehemiah remained in Jerusalem twelve years, from B. C. 444 to B. C. 432. He was then recalled and was in Persia some years, perhaps five or seven, but returned about B. C. 425, the year Artaxerxes died, for we know that he returned by permission of that king. Therefore, the date of this lesson would be sometime in the summer or early autumn of 426 or 427 B. C., 16 or 18 years following last Sunday's lesson.

In the section, vv. 10-14, we see that the gifts for the house of God and the Levites, who led in worship, had been neglected. Whenever the house of God and its service of worship is neglected, we may expect that the Sabbath day and the worship of God will also soon fall into contempt. Ezra has dropped out of our history without a hint as to his end. He may have returned to Babylon, seeing that his work was completed, or have been recalled by the king. Perhaps he brought back information to Nehemiah at the Persian court, of the declension which had already started in the city of Jerusalem. Three times in this chapter the word "remember" is emphasized. Perhaps that offers a suggestion as to our outline.

I. "Remember" (v. 14) the Neglect of God's House. (vv. 1-14). The neglect of God's house grew up out of the incursion of heathenism into Jewish life. Nehemiah realized that the purity of the race depended upon absolute separation from the mixed multitude. (v. 3). Nehemiah also confronted the difficulty of having a priest (vv. 4, 5), who had defiled himself and also desecrated the temple, and finally the portion for the support of the priest and the temple worship had been withheld. (v. 10). This was the state of things with which Nehemiah had to contend.

II. "Remember" (v. 12) the Sabbath Day. (vv. 15-22). Nehemiah's next and most difficult reform was regarding the fourth commandment. He at once set about to learn the facts; then relates what he saw (v. 15). The record also tells how he testified against them in that they were selling merchandise on the Sabbath day. He contended with the nobles that they had done evil on the Sabbath day. (v. 17). He testified against them that the merchants and sellers of ware had lodged about and within Jerusalem. (vv. 20, 21). The root of the trouble with Judah was that they forgot God's word and followed the devices and desires of their own hearts. The Jewish Sabbath in its outward form on the exact day of the week is not binding upon Gentile Christians (Col. 2:16, 17). It was given to Israel as a people, (Deut. 5:1, 2), as a memorial of their deliverance out of the land of Egypt and the house of bondage. (Deut. 5:6). The Christian, by the death of Christ, is made dead to the letter of the law of Moses. (Deut. 7:4), but the principle of the Sabbath is older than even the law of Moses and is as binding upon the Christian believer as are the many other principles which underlie the Mosaic law. In its exact form, the seventh day, the observance of the Sabbath belongs to the old order and not to the Christian order. Christ, who rose from the dead (Rom. 7:4), rose on the first day of the week, and we, as joined to Christ, are not under obligations to the Mosaic law, but to Christ. Therefore, the Lord's day, the resurrection day, the first day of the week, (Rev. 1:10; John 21:20; 1:19-26; Acts 27), is the day of privilege, not of obligation and is more sacred to us than the Sabbath day of these Jews. The Jews in Nehemiah's time showed their contempt of the Lord's day by making it a day of profit, hence this exhortation which we see set forth in this section. This should be a warning and an exhortation to us in these days of a secularized Sabbath.

III. "Remember" (v. 29) the Holy Priesthood. (vv. 23-31). In this section we see that the priesthood had even defiled themselves with women, and again this Nehemiah entered upon a cleansing process, (vv. 30-31). The use of this word "remember" in verses 14, 22 and 29 gives strong emphasis to the three cardinal sins against which Nehemiah was battling.

IV. Summary: As in Nehemiah's time, so now, Sabbath desecration is the surest road to national ruin, and a large proportion of our present calamity can be traced to growing irreverence for the Lord's day. Jesus swept away the cobwebs of Sabbath irreverence, but did not tear down the house. He kept the principle, but removed the barnacles with which the Pharisees and Jews had encumbered it. Jesus taught that the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. (Mark 2:27, 28), and he set himself as an example in this regard, for he is Lord of that day as well as the other days of the week.

The Sabbath is a day of rest and if observed, workmen without exception will produce more than is possible if it is not observed. Recent confirmation of this principle can be found in the report of the British ministry of munitions. To observe the Sabbath or any other divinely ordained principle tends to prosperity (I Tim. 4:8).

The chief value of the Sabbath, however, is in connection with the worship of God. The feeding of the spiritual nature; the rest which is to be differentiated from mere holiday or pleasure; its need for adult and child life; its educational value; its opportunity for Christian service and exaltation of family relations, all show it to have been created to fill a real need and to manifest the wisdom and goodness of God.

Need of Haste.

A man whose duties keep him up o' nights, entered a downtown restaurant at a late hour one evening, relates an exchange. He glanced at the clock, then at the calendar, then at the menu, from which he ordered a frugal repast.

At the end of ten minutes, he succeeded in catching his waiter's eye.

"Look here, how long am I going to have to wait for that grub I ordered?" he inquired.

"Oh, I guess it won't be long, now," yawned the waiter. "In a hurry?"

"In a hurry? Say, I ordered a meal without meat because it is meatless day. And if I have to wait five minutes longer, it will be wheatless day, and I won't get a thing!"

Hezekiah's Progress.

Speaking at a dinner, Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota referred to the progress of the farmer, and smillingly recalled this little story:

Hezekiah was on his way to town one afternoon, and chancing to see his friend Abner working in an adjacent field, he paused for a small chate over the barbed wire fence. Incidentally inquiry was made after Abner's eldest son, Hezekiah.

"Hezekiah is in the city now," answered Abner, with some show of pride. "Been there most a year."

"Yes, I know that," returned Uncle John. "What I was wonderin' was which side he was on."

"Which side he was on," queried Abner, with a puzzled expression. "I don't quite just get ye."

"What I mean, Abner," explained Uncle John, "is Hezekiah buyin' gold bricks yet, or has he started in to sell 'em?"

MISS DID HER SWEET BEST

Dainty Maiden Interfered With Coal Wagon but Failed in Effort to Induce Team to Budge.

Irish profanity is not green. Frequently it is blue. It was recently—on State street, above Main, muses the Springfield Republican. This cloud of sulphurous rhetoric rose from the driver's seat of an overloaded coal wagon. Three horses—possibly they belonged to the union—went on strike. And the Irish driver, armed with a whip, tried to break the strike. And the horses flapped their ears, swished their tails and twisted their necks to blink at him. A wisp of thin, blue smoke spouted from his clay pipe to mingle with the fires of his wrath. The lash of his whip smacked the brass-studded harness, and a crowd on the sidewalk howled:

"Mush! ya bogger, mush!" yelled a voice.

"Veer out the tiller lines and nail 'em on the bottom," laughed a second.

And still the horses blinked. Michael rose to new heights of novelty, and the coal cart sagged.

A young girl tripped down the street in a loud coat, shouldered through the crowd and stared, with a gasp of horror pursing her delicate lips. Then her eyes narrowed, and she stepped out into the gutter.

"You stop beating those horses," she shrilled, "or I'll have you arrested!" Michael glowered at her, and smiled. "Sure, and maybe you kin get thim goin'," he suggested.

"Of course I can," she tossed her head, and climbed up on the grimy load of coal.

She grasped the ponderous reins in her tiny hands, stiffened her back and scorned the whip with an acid smile. "Come, darlings," she cooed, "be nice and pull this little load right up the hill." The sidewalk audience hooted. She did her sweet best. And the off horse stretched an elastic neck to see what manner of malady the gods had inflicted upon him now. The middle horse flapped his ears again; the nigh horse switched his tail. Then all three sighed with resignation and—didn't budge. Finally a motor truck came along and yanked the cart to the top.

A certain Englewood man was injured some years ago in a railroad wreck and brought suit against the company. The case was tried and a verdict rendered for the plaintiff; the suit was appealed and dragged along for some time, and last week was settled. The lawyer handed the man a big, solid silver dollar as his share after the costs were taken out, and the man looked incredulously at the solitary one-spot, and casually asked the liberal (?) lawyer, "What is the matter with this dollar; is it counterfeit?"

"It would be a small loss," rejoined the merchant, but he saw from the injured look the customer wore as she crept out of the door that he had made a mistake somewhere, though it did not dawn upon him until too late.

Turnkey, the plumber, had worked for thirty years without a holiday, and now that his son was taking a hand in the business he felt that he might take a brief rest. On his return he inquired how things had gone. "Fine!" Tom responded. "There's no use in talking, dad, but I have made things hum! I've cleaned up everything—there isn't a single unfinished job on the slate!" Mr. Turnkey turned pale. "You mean to say you've finished with the bathroom at Brown's and the kitchen sink at Smith's?" he said slowly. "Yes. And the leaky tap at the Laurels'?" "Um!" "And the boiler at the Grange? Sure! Why, those jobs had been hanging on longer than I could remember." "My boy," said Mr. Turnkey, sadly, "you don't realize what you have done. I've enough to keep me in my old age, but you, poor lad, have thrown away what were to have been your most valuable legacies. Those jobs paid for your education and, taken care of, would have maintained you in comfort for the rest of your life."

Mrs. Black was an ardent worker in the temperance society, which was to meet that afternoon. She dressed hurriedly and came downstairs panting. "Lizzie," she called to the maid, "run upstairs and get my temperance badge. I have forgotten it. It has a blue ribbon with gold lettering." "Yes, ma'am, I know it well," said Lizzie. Lizzie could not read, but she knew a blue ribbon with gold letters when she saw it and had no trouble in locating it and fastening it on the dress of her mistress. Mrs. Black was too busy greeting her friends to note that they smiled broadly when they looked at her. When the family was assembled at tea Mrs. Black entered and was received with laughter by her children, who made her look at her badge then for the first time. The gold letters on the ribbon read: "Redfield Poultry Show. First Prize, Bantam."

Community Club of Englewood.

Weather hovering around zero did not prevent 110 of the club's members from enjoying its social day with Mrs. Charles S. Deneen as its gracious hostess. The musical numbers by Miss Lois Dyson, violinist; Miss Cornelia Kummer, vocalist, and the Misses Vera Albright and Meta Louise Kummer, pianists, of the Sherwood School of Music, were beautifully rendered and enthusiastically received by the audience.

Ten dollars was voted by the club to aid in establishing recreation facilities in soldier and sailor camps in the state, and the same amount to help advance the suffrage cause by a federal amendment.

Soldier scrap books were also given out to be filled and sent to the hospitals.

A motion was passed condemning the various cabarets and indorsing any action on the part of our aldermen which will put them out of existence.

The social hour, bringing with it all this splendid neighborly co-operation and larger helpfulness, was also made use of by a large number of busy knitters, for the "boys" are never for a moment forgotten.

The Englewood Sunday Evening Club.

It is often said that there is nothing new under the sun, but we believe that next Sunday evening our Englewood audience is to be introduced to a man who can bring to us something refreshingly unique and totally different from our former programs. To all of use who refuse to grow old and still are able to believe in fairies, the name of Seumas MacManus is well known. He is a brilliant representative of a poetic race. As child and youth, he sat at the feet of the "Shanachies" by the turf fires, and lived the life of his own people until, saturated with the Celtic spirit, he was able in his writings and his lectures to express that poetry and mysticism, wit, humor and pathos which are characteristic of the finest spirit of Ireland. He is as fine a story-teller as the world has known, and a strong advocate of the purpose and power of story telling as an inspiring factor in education.

His stories of the "little people," however, are not merely fairy tales, for through them he interprets the soul of his race in most exquisite language. His latest book, "Yourself and the Neighbors," has won the highest commendations. It has been called "the noblest and most beautiful book ever written about Ireland," "the very best projection of Irish life that has ever been published," "a prose poem," etc. Some of his earlier and better-known publications are "Donegal Fairy Tales," "Ballads of a Country Boy," "In Chimney Corners" and "The Red Poacher."

Mr. MacManus is to speak to us next Sunday evening on "The Glories, the Sorrows and the Hopes of Ireland," a subject which promises much of interest and real worth. Professor Zueblin a few weeks since spoke of the wonderful contribution of Ireland in the upbuilding of our United States, the high ideals, the kindliness and the wit and humor, so characteristic of the Irish people. The Buffalo Evening News of Buffalo, N. Y., in commenting on a recent address delivered in that city, says, "Although so ill that he had to be carried on the stage in a chair, Seumas MacManus last night delivered the most impressive address on Ireland ever heard by the people of Buffalo."

It is with pleasant anticipation then that we invite the people of our community to attend the meeting of our club next Sunday evening in the auditorium of the Englewood Presbyterian church, corner Yale Ave. and W. 64th St. The doors open at 6:45 o'clock and there will be an organ recital by Mr. George R. Kurtz from 7:15 to 7:30, at which time our service commences. The soloist of the evening will be Mr. Frank Johnson, basso. Come early and bring your friends.

Dr. White Will Talk on 'Jerusalem' Sunday.

By reason of his extensive studies and travels in the Holy land, we know of no one who is more capable of talking on the great subject of the day, "Jerusalem," than our own Dr. R. A. White, D. D. On Sunday evening at 7:45 he will deliver his illustrated lecture, with hundreds of handsomely colored slides, all the negatives having been taken by himself while traveling in the Holy land recently, entitled "Jerusalem; the Fall of the Star and the Crescent." No subject could be more aptly chosen and no lecturer in the field is better qualified to lecture on this engrossing subject. The enlarged auditorium of the People's Liberal church scarce can hold his audiences, and if you want a seat next Sunday go early. The doors are open at seven o'clock, and admission is free. In the morning Doctor White will preach at 10:30 on "Jesus and Jerusalem." The usual services will be held.

Handel's Oratorio, "Messiah."

The combined choirs of the Englewood First M. E. and the Normal Park Baptist will give the "Messiah" at the Englewood M. E. church, 64th St. and Stewart Ave., Thursday evening, December 20, at 8:15. The soloists for the occasion are: Soprano, Miss Julia Keith; contralto, Mrs. James Corboy; tenor, Mr. John B. Miller; basso, Mr. Burton Thatcher; organist, Mrs. Mary Dugger; pianist, Mrs. Beulah Taylor Porter; director, Mrs. Charles W. Leigh. It is seldom that we have the opportunity of hearing such a quartette of soloists on one occasion.

Hamilton Park Woman's Club.

The monthly business meeting will be held on Tuesday, December 18. The program will be in charge of the music department. Mrs. R. R. Kortz, chairman. The Hamilton Park children's chorus will sing Christmas carols and Mrs. Frank Jerome of the Civic Music association of Chicago will talk on "Community Music."

Englewood Woman's Club.

Music Department to Present Henriette Weber in Her Second Opera Talk of This Season, on Monday Morning—In the Afternoon Mrs. George Plummer Will Speak on "The Prayers of the World"—Guest Day to Be Observed and Club Chorus Will Sing.

The education department and members of the club met together Monday morning, December 10. Mrs. Robert Holmes, chairman of this department, had provided for that morning a splendid speaker, Helen Thompson Woolley, director of vocation bureau in the public schools of Cincinnati, but owing to the lateness of train a substitution was brought into play in the form of a discussion by several of those present on the subject, "Should Boys Under Nineteen Years of Age Be Taught Military Training in the Schools?" This proved of interest to all.

Reports were then read by chairman of the various committees in this department.

Despite a cold afternoon the business meeting in view brought forth a number of the club, and the smaller room was comfortably filled. Those who attended were surely repaid and only the word regret could be used by those who failed to come. A business meeting at the Englewood Woman's club means one of interest and something else added for the enjoyment of those who attend. This latter seems to be the unceasing effort of the club president Mrs. Charles S. Clark. Therefore to miss a business meeting means loss to the individual.

It was reported that no organization ever sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" with more enthusiasm than was heard at the opening of the meeting Monday. A patriotic spirit predominated throughout the entire song.

Following this the secretary, Mrs. Frederick Nichols' report, was heard and likewise the treasurer's report by Mrs. Willis Tower.

Readers of the following will readily see what a fine organization we have in our community which has undertaken and carried forward a work which is of such vital importance to mankind. The chairman of this committee of Red Cross workers is Mrs. John Gailey Campbell. Her helpers are some twenty ladies in the club, ever ready to lend a hand. A list of some articles which have been made and forwarded to its distributing station follows: Knitted articles, since October 1, consisting of 172 sweaters, 79 pairs of sox, 33 helmets, 31 scarfs and 39 pairs of wristlets; 222 garments that were made for the French relief, 79 garments for the hospital, and 1,220 surgical dressings. Twenty-eight dollars has been given thus far toward Christmas stockings. A class of boys and girls at the Parker school has been organized under the supervision of some of these ladies and is busy in spare moments making surgical dressings. The girls at the Lucy Flower school are planning to make serge dresses for a call which has been received by the Englewood Woman's club. Aside from this Mrs. William Roberts reported that $600 had been turned over to the Y. M. C. A. in their recent campaign. This money was given by the club members. Surely this report alone is well worth mentioning and shows what a body of women banded together can do.

Mrs. Joseph K. Brittain made an excellent report on the Englewood high school lunch room work, 14,000 being served during November. Wheatless and meatless days are observed, complying with the ordinance. Candies on sale are sugarless, being made of corn sirup and glucose.

Mrs. A. R. E. Wyant, chairman of the budget committee, and Miss Marie J. Hesse, gave accounts of their work. The budget committee is composed of three members, the two aforementioned and Mrs. Willis Tower. Requests which come to the club for help are received by these ladies and dealt with according to their worthiness and in the order in which they come. Mrs. Wyant suggested the following amounts to be given: $25 each to the New Garment association, to the Fallon school for crippled children and the Sarah Hackett Stevenson school. This met with the club's approval.

Mrs. Charles Woodman, interested in the Englewood branch of United Charities, suggested to the ladies who intended giving Christmas baskets to those in need, to call up the bureau and get correct information regarding families. Mrs. Woodman cited many cases which are worthy and are receiving attention under her able management.

Mrs. C. H. Gurnett, chairman of the Housewives' league, gave us a few pointers regarding foods. Also asked us to protest against the display of meats in stores and of unclean groceries; to watch containers, not bearing net weight marked thereon.

Short but good reports were given by Mrs. W. H. Buhlig for the Cook County league in the absence of Mrs. F. G. Cuyler; the Sarah Hackett Stevenson school, by Mrs. F. C. Brandt; the School of Domestic Arts and Science, by Mrs. A. R. Ingalls, and club luncheon, Mrs. H. W. Condit.

A motion was made by Mrs. F. H. Pendry that a letter be sent to the magazines and newspapers, also the department stores, that the Englewood Woman's club protests against the use of wool trimmings on woman's garments and of garments knit of wool such as sweaters; in other words the conserving of all wool that can be used for the making of articles for our great army. Mesdames R. M. Reed, W. H. Buhlig, F. H. Pendry and J. G. Campbell are the committee in charge.

At the close of the business meeting the speaker who was to have appeared at the morning meeting was present and her subject, "The Use of Mental Tests in Classifying School Children" was enjoyed.

She gave us the principles of establishing mental tests, instances of their use and how employed in the schools, cited examples of several children who were tested and the results.

"Half the children that leave school before completing eighth grade and go into industry because of economic need, are unfit for positions and below the average mental ability.

"Keeping retarded children constantly failing is something that is being dispensed with in the schools of Cincinnati. Also in this state defective children cannot be committed to an institution without the signature of the parent, and this is somewhat difficult to obtain in many cases," said Mrs. Woolley.

"Classes have been organized for superior children, which will keep the child constantly busy. They will delve deeper into the subject before them, and thus constitute a rapidly moving class."

At the close of this interesting subject questions and discussion followed.

Next Monday morning, December 17, Henriette Weber will give her second opera talk of the season before the music department and friends. Her subject will be, "Wagner's School as a Standard of Art" with Wagner's "Tannhauser" as an illustration. Judging from the first opera talk on November 5, something good is in store for those who will take advantage of such an occasion. In the afternoon Mrs. George Plummer, parliamentarian for the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs, will speak. Her subject will be, "The Prayers of the World."

The club chorus will be heard in Christmas carols. Each member may bring a guest.
